Essai's Ivy Class of 2028

The Three Tiers

At Essai, we've carefully curated three exceptional categories of aspirational universities for our students, each embodying the pinnacle of academic excellence and global recognition. These categories are:

- Ivy +: Rising stars that closely mirror the Ivy League standard, consistently delivering exceptional academic quality and fostering a culture of innovation and intellectual exploration.
- Sub-10%: These institutions, with below 10% acceptance rates, consistently rank among the top universities worldwide, attracting students from diverse backgrounds and fostering a rich international exchange of knowledge.
- The Global Select: Distinguished international universities that excel in their respective regions, offering globally recognized programs.

Here are the different bases on which we calculate student results:

SAT adjusted

This category tracks admissions for students whose SAT scores meet or exceed the average reported scores for the selected universities.

Non-SAT

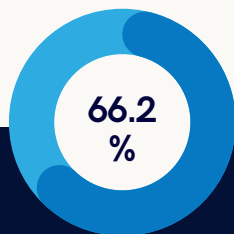

This category includes students who gained admission without submitting SAT scores or with scores falling below average for the selected universities.

The Ivy +

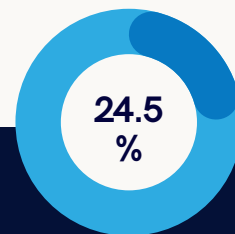

At Essai, students applying with a university-average (or above) SAT score have a chance of getting in to the Ivy +.

However, Essai students with a below average SAT score got in

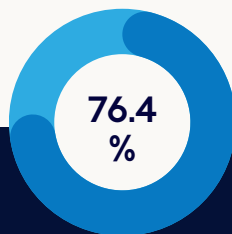

of the time, anyway.

The Sub-10%

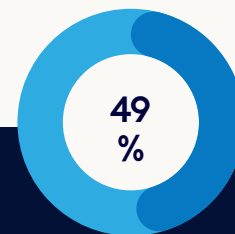

At Essai, students applying with a university-average (or above) SAT score have a chance of getting in to the Sub -10%.

However, Essai students with a below average SAT score got in

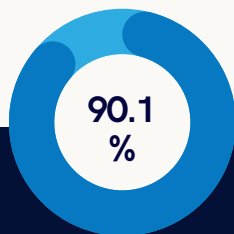

of the time, anyway.

The Global Select

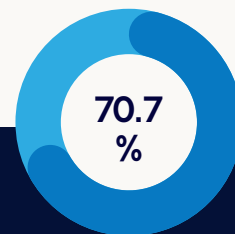

At Essai, students applying with a university-average (or above) SAT score have a chance of getting in to the Global Select.

However, Essai students with a below average SAT score got in

of the time, anyway.

At Essai, you're more than a score.

Since 2020, we have been proud to help our students craft and implement personalised score reporting plans, with more than 50% of our students having a “test optional” component to their application strategy.

Test-optional applicants need to engage in memorable and impactful profile building, communicate their passions effectively, and submit compelling and original application essays.
That's the Essai difference.

Since 2020, Essai students applying without SAT or ACT have been accepted by:
